REVIEW

25.04.2025

9:00 - 11:30

This seminar is primarily intended for students who are not happy with their test results. The main purpose is to help students increase their chance of success (if they don't score 30 marks in total and have to resit the test in the exam period) and also to help them identify potential problem areas they should focus on when preparing for their course and tests.

- 09:00-10:00 review of selected typical mistakes that students have made in the credit tests this semester, revision of the corresponding language structures from the textbook with practice
- 10:10-11:30 mock test consisting of all three parts, i.e. with the same structure as the resit test, feedback, discussion

NOTE: We'll work with sample questions from the tests that were used this semester, not necessarily the particular test you took. If you want to see what mistakes you made in your test, you should arrange this with your teacher.
